PRESS RELEASE

TCI Global Conference 2015, "Clusters in a Creative Economy. New Agendas for Companies and Policy Makers"

6.11.2015 900 cluster practitioners from 86 countries participated in the main international conference on cluster development in the world, organized annually by the TCI Network.

The 18th TCI Global Conference was held in Daegu, Republic of Korea on 3-6 November 2015. Under the theme of "Clusters in a Creative Economy. New Agendas for Companies and Policy Makers ", 900 cluster practitioners, policy makers, academics and business persons from 86 countries and institutions like the World Bank and UNIDO gathered to exchange experiences and discuss clusters in a creative economy.

Hosted by MOTIE, the Ministry of Trade, Industry & Energy of the Republic of Korea and organized by KICOX - Korea Industrial Complex Corp in collaboration with TCI Network, the four day-day event included discussions on major themes of cluster development.

Both KICOX and the TCI Network see this event as a major step in strengthening ties between clusters in Asia and the rest of the world. The result of the discussions held during the conference will be the foundation of further projects between the two organizations, so as to create a reference for cluster based economic development in Asia.
